Integrity Electric is a perfect name for this company.

The men in this company are hard workers, that come when they say they will be here and finish on time, disposing of trash and old materials, leaving the premises clean. There is no drinking or smoking on the job. I obtained three bids for wiring my dock and found Integrity Electric to be the most reasonable.

I would certainly recommend this company for any work that you might need to have done.

Number one priority, for me, was starting the job on the time promised and completing on time. I was told they would be here on Tuesday and it would be a two day job. They came on time and finished on time. A big deal at the lake.

Sincerely,

Jacque Schleifer
